

Jodo Shinshu Ritual in Daily Life and how to serve the home altar

Submitted by Rimban Katsuya Kusunoki

Gassho – joined palms

Join both palms together and place the nenju over your hands with the thumbs lightly resting on the beads. The fingers are aligned and straight. The joined hands are at mid-chest level at a 45 degree angle from the upper body. The elbows rest downward, naturally, not akimbo. Recite the nembutsu while maintaining this posture.

Raihai – bow

Keep your upper body straight and bow from the waist to a 45 degree angle with the hands together in gasshō, then return to the original upright position. Finally, release the hands from gasshō.

Burning Incense – Oshoko

There are several different ways of making offerings to the Buddha. “burning incense –oshoko–” is one of them.

Burning incense, oshoko, is the ritual/etiquette to burn incense; gassho and raihai express our respect and gratitude to Amida Buddha.

First, place a lit charcoal in the kanagōro/metal incense burner; then burn the granular form of fragrant, dark resinous wood, such as jinkō (agarwood) or goshukō (a blend of five kinds of fragrant wood) before the image of the Buddha.

How to “oshoko” (burn incense)

1. Stop about one step before the kanagōro/metal incense burner and do a shallow bow; step forward with your left foot.
2. Using your right hand, remove the lid of the granular incense container and rest it on the right side of the container’s rim.
3. Take a pinch of incense and place it in the incense burner.
4. Replace the lid on the incense container.
5. Gassho (join the palms), recite, “Namoamidabutsu” and perform raihai (bow).
6. Step back, beginning with the right foot. Align the feet, do a shallow bow, then leave.

Burning and offering of incense/Guko

- Gukō is the burning of incense as an offering to the Buddha which originated from India.
- Nenkō is the burning of makkō (powdered incense) in the incense burner, regardless of whether there is a service or not.

- Senkō (stick incense) can be used in place of makkō. Break the stick incense into an appropriate length, light it, and lay it inside the incense burner. There is no specific rule as to how many sticks to offer.

Offering of Candle There are two kinds of candles used depending upon the occasions when they are used.

- (1) hakurō (white candle) — regular services
 - (2) shurō (red candle) — Hō'onkō, kyōsan hōyō, nenki hōyō (Buddhist anniversary memorial service), 7th year memorial and subsequent memorials
- Candles in the home altar (obutsudan) are also lit for daily morning and evening service.
 - Normally, place a mokurō (a lacquered, wooden red candle) on the candleholder when a candle is not lit.

Offering of flowers

- Replace the seasonal flowers and greenery before they wither and change or add fresh water frequently.
- Do not use flowers that have thorns or are poisonous, and do not use artificial flowers.
- Do not use red flowers for funeral and memorial service.

Offering of Candle, Incense, and Flowers Offering candle, incense, and flowers are the basis of adornment in front of the Buddha.

- Candle: The candlelight illuminates the dark which represents Buddha's Great Wisdom.
- Incense: The fragrance of incense spreads without boundary and represents Buddha's Great Compassion
- Flowers: A flower blooms when the conditions for blooming are right. (Interdependence). A flower also withers one day. (Impermanence). A flower represents my life which is embraced by Amida Buddha's Wisdom and Compassion.

Offering of Rice (buppan)

- Normally, offer the buppan (Offering of Rice) for morning service and remove it before noon.
- We gratefully receive the buppan to eat.
- Offer the buppan in the afternoon, if you are not able to offer it in the morning.
- It is most important to make rice offering with gratitude.

Offering of Food This is the way we place the Buddha in the center of our life.

- Food is placed in the altar for special services, (such as Hoonko, etc), and funeral and memorial services.
- From the center, outward, the food is arranged on both sides in the following order: mochi (rice cake), sweets, and fruit as diagramed below:

- Fish and meat should not be offered.
- When we receive something from someone, we offer it to the Buddha first; then we receive it with gratitude.

Cleaning the Altar

- Clean the altar frequently.
- Dust the home altar with a feather duster.
- Add fresh water to flower vases.
- Wipe the altar adornments.
- Smooth the surface of the burnt incense in the burner.
- Do not touch and wipe surfaces covered with gold leaf which is delicate.
- Designate and devote cleaning equipment (such as cleaning cloth, feather dusters, hand brooms) for altar use only.

Musical Notes by Kemi Nakabayashi

Do you recall some years back that we included Climb Ev'ry Mountain from the musical "The Sound of Music" in our Earth Day Music Service? We have been so fortunate to have had such an array of singers and instrumentalists support service music at Seattle Betsuin over many years. We also had relatively more freedom before presenting online services to use some selections of music or lyrics which are more restricted for online streaming. With the transition back to in-person services, not just having people in the hondo chanting and singing and listening to the Dharma, but also hearing the sounds of the bonsho and the kansho ringing again also seems to touch the soul. However, in many ways at Seattle Betsuin as well as across BCA, we still rely on online formats.

BCA Music Committee has relied on connecting virtually to meet, plan and now to celebrate our newest featured project. The Bon Odori/Taiko/Public Music subcommittee, co-chaired by Wynn Kiyama from Oregon Buddhist Temple and our own Tyler Moriguchi, is excited to present this month the completion of the commission of musician and activist Nobuko Miyamoto. Her new bon odori song and dance Kangie, meaning “gathering of joy”, debuts this month with information on the BCA Music webpage of the BCA website for a sound recording and instructional dance video.

If you have other creative suggestions for incorporating music in our temple services or ways that Seattle Betsuin can enrich your home life through music, please share your ideas. After all, the word for music in Japanese “ongaku” uses the kanji “on” for sound and “gaku” which means “joy”.

It’s happening! On May 1 we held a zoom meeting, (pictured above), with the travel agency for the World Buddhist Women’s Convention and tour of Japan. Those needing assistance to register came to the dining room with their laptops. Deadline to register is May 31, 2022.

May 15 Gotanye Service - A big thank you to Karen M, Machiko W, Nina T-K, Tina Z-K, Tomi Z and Leanne N-W for making the sekihan for attendees, and Mrs. Kawahara for making nigome for the onajin and for all those who attended the service.

SBBWA members prepared and distributed sekihan and nigome after Gotanye Service on May 15, 2022.

SBBWA is sponsoring a Japanese Language class via zoom with Emi N focusing on conversation for our 2023 World Buddhist Women’s Conference. Emi has provided many links and supportive materials to enrich all levels of learners. (She’s great!) The time has been changed to Friday evenings.

Fran S and Suzanne F have volunteered to do a craft at Lakeshore Residential Care facility monthly.

Donna Z organized SBBWA pickle ball fun on May 14 and 21 - with 14 people each time. David and Tracy Yamada did a great job getting us started. We are very appreciative to Nikkei Concerns/JCCCW pickle ball group for graciously sharing their equipment with us. Gordon Sata helped us get the new nets and showed us how to set up. David Yamada and Tina K also brought extra racquets. Big thanks to them all.

Join our Walk for Rice Team held on June 18 from 9am to 12pm at Jefferson Park. Your participation and support is welcomed and appreciated. Sign up on their website <https://give.acrs.org/fundraiser/3906672>. Our goal is to raise $2000, and our team name is: SBBWA. Thank you for all those who have donated so far!

Dharma School Superintendents' Message

As this 2021-2022 school year winds to an end, we would like to thank our DS teachers, board members, parents, students, and sangha. Thank you for your support as we continue to navigate the pandemic together. We are excited that we are now gathering in person and look forward to recognizing our high school graduating seniors, DS students and teachers on June 5th in the Hondo, after the All-Sangha Memorial Service. Then on June 12, following the Last Day of Dharma School Service, we will have an All DS celebration in the gym and if weather permits, outside, to have fun, catch up and enjoy being together....in-person!

DS teachers have had to be very creative these last few years — Mae, Kari Ann, Joan, Marie, Joyce, Dave, Ileene, Yvette, Claire, Tara, Kiana, Harrison, Jason and Ron, thank you for your continued dana to DS and Seattle Betsuin.

This year, Joan and Kari Ann were recognized by the Federation of Dharma School Teachers' League for 25 years of service! Thank you!

Also, this year, we thanked and congratulated Joyce and Dave for teaching the 1st and 2nd graders for over 20+ years. We would love to hear from you if you are interested in taking the baton from Joyce and Dave to help support the upcoming 1st and 2nd graders this fall.

Seattle Betsuin is able to provide Sunday Dharma School only with the help of our sangha's dana. Please consider being a part of this wonderful and supportive team of teachers.

Many thanks to you, our DS Board, who met monthly online all year and our temple affiliated youth groups and leaders, who have dedicated time and care to keep our youth connected and engaged in our temple and community. Thank you to students, families and sangha for supporting DS and Seattle Betsuin with your involvement. We all feel fortunate to have the support of temple leadership who has led our sangha through the many adaptations to continue temple programming and outreach. Thank you!

As of now, we are planning for in-person classes come September! Until then, please continue to stay up-to-date with DS information through the DS newsletter. Thank you again!

Gassho,

Claire and Yvette

“Temple News”

June 2022

by Leanne Nishi-Wong

“June ushers in a season of change, not only in the weather, but at the temple. The Betsuin wishes Joan the best in her retirement, from the office, and thanks her for her many years of supporting the temple and the sangha. As a volunteer Dharma School teacher, her “retirement” will be short-lived, as she will be returning to the temple in the Fall.

The Seattle Betsuin welcomes Ileene to the temple office. Please take a moment to say hello and introduce yourself to her.

Bon Odori season is upon us. The Obon Committee is in the midst of planning this year's event. Information is forthcoming.

Services are now being conducted in-person and on-line. If you are unable to attend either of these options, please let us know how the temple can keep you connected to the dharma. You may leave a message in the office at (206) 329-0800 or email me at chairperson@seattlebetsuin.org I look forward to hearing from you.

Dharma School and other organizations will be taking a break during the Summer. Enjoy the warm weather! Safe travels to those that will be venturing out.

May you and yours be embraced by Amida Buddha's wisdom and compassion.

Dharma School Classroom Reports

The PreK, Kindergarten and 1st Grade class watched a book on video What not to Give your Mom on Mother's Day. They honored their moms by making them cards.

After learning about the wisteria and its significance in Jodo Shinshu, the students decorated a picture of wisteria flowers and compared them to the Jodo Shinshu wisteria crest.

As the Temple slowly reopens, the students were given a quiz. They were given hints such as "This is used when you say 'Namu Amida Butsu'" and they were given pictures of different items associated with the temple. They then matched the hints and the pictures. The students who turned in their quiz did get 100%!

To celebrate Gotan-e, the children learned about Shinran Shonin's life. They made a collage with different pictures of Shinran Shonin to recognize his birthday.

Since we are nearing the end of Dharma School, the children did a review of some of the lessons that they learned during the year. Several of the questions centered around the different Buddhist holidays that we celebrated.

We also honored the students who received perfect attendance and outstanding attendance for the 2021-2022 Dharma School year. We are looking forward to when we will be able to teach the Dharma to the students in person.

2/3/4/5 Class

We were excited to welcome students back in-person to our DS classroom in May. For the remainder of this school year, students have the option to join us online or in-person. This month we finished up our Earth Day chart to help us remember to keep up our good habits to help protect and preserve our Earth and limited resources. We also made a Mother's Day gift to celebrate our moms and later in the month, a puzzle craft to celebrate Gotan-e and learn more about Shinran Shonin's life.

MEDITATION meets each Sunday morning at 9:00AM -9:45AM. We open with SanBujo, Sit in Gratitude Meditation for 20 minutes, chant Nembutsu and close with discussion. Please join us, either in person, at the house east of the temple at 1439 S. Main St., or on Zoom - e-mail newsletter@seattlebetsuin.com and specify SBC Meditation to receive the Link.

BUDDHIST BOOK STUDY GROUP will meet Saturday, July 2, 2022

Details of this meeting will be forthcoming; the group will take a break for the month of June.

To receive updates, e-mail newsletter@seattlebetsuin.org; Subject: Book Study.

Yakima Buddhist Church holds Annual Memorial Day Service, May 29, 2022

Dean Hata placed American flags on graves of 23 Japanese-American veterans interred at Tahoma Cemetery, Yakima, WA, prior to Service and read their names, opening service.

Rev Rosalie May of Yakima Buddhist Church, (pictured seated), and Rev Irene Goto from Seattle Betsuin, led sutra chanting, and gatha singing; Rev Goto gave a dharma message.

Lon Inaba announced the progress of the Japanese Pioneer Memorial Garden at Tahoma Cemetery, a Joint Project of the Yakima Valley Japanese Bochi Association and the Yakima Buddhist Church. Diane Inaba announced a community potluck on June 11.

Lon and Dean led the Seattle contingent, including Kasumi Yamashita and her children, to Toppenish, Zillah, and Sunnyside Cemeteries to lay more peonies that were collected and donated by the community.

Diane wrote: Thank you. Great job on the Memorial Day Service. It was nice to see so many help place the peonies & attend the Service, (21 or more attendees)... We had a very diverse crowd of Japanese, Chinese, Filipino, Hispanic, Korean & Caucasians coming from Moses Lake, Yakima, Wapato, Seattle, Vancouver and elsewhere! ...Submitted by Irene Goto
